Glances into Our Possible Future

Science fiction readings by authors David Walton & Sally Wiener Grotta in conjunction with the Philadelphia Museum of Art's *Designs for Different Futures Exhibit

Sunday, December 22nd, 2:00 to 3:00 PM

DAVID WALTON's latest book is "Three Laws Lethal," a thriller about how self-driving cars and AI are rewriting our futures. He is the recipient of the Philip K. Dick Award for distinguished science fiction and the John W. Campbell Award for best science fiction novel. The Wall Street Journal wrote that David Walton "has brought hard sci-fi roaring back to life." He lives a double life as an aerospace engineer with Lockheed Martin by day and mild-mannered father of eight children by night. (davidwaltonfiction.wordpress.com)

SALLY WIENER GROTTA's latest short story "One Widow's Healing" (a Health Odyssey award winner) explores the personal and ethical issues of future technology-driven health care. Her books include "The Winter Boy" (a Locus Magazine's 2015 Recommended Read) and "Jo Joe" (a Jewish Book Council Network selected book). Her far-ranging experiences as a journalist covering all corners of the world flavor her tales with a sense of wonder, otherliness and common sense. A popular speaker, Sally has a reputation for stimulating meaningful discussions and workshops on creativity, storytelling, and on crossing our tribal divides. (SallyWienerGrotta.com)
